

June 20, 2017

Carol Bell, RN
Pre-Op/PACU Manager
St. Thomas Surgicare
4230 Harding Rd. Suite 300
Nashville, TN 37205
615-783-1260

To Whom It May Concern:

I recently attended a workshop on Creative Thinking given by Darren Murphy. As a unit manager of an ambulatory surgery center, I am always looking for educational opportunities to help in my career. In his promotional invitation letter, Darren guaranteed I would acquire specific thinking patterns and behaviors that would open up and make my creative side an on-purpose skill set.

Darren was not exaggerating. He did teach the specific skills sets, then he went one step further. He had activities that brought the skills into the realm of applicability and usefulness.

I recommend this workshop to anyone who wants to be a Creative Thinker in their profession and in their personal life. The day went by fast and it was truly a workshop; not someone reading power point slides.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Carol Bell, RN". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Carol Bell, RN